Strategic Radiology Welcomes 10th Affiliate, Minneapolis Radiology Associates

April 6, 2018—Minneapolis Radiology Associates., MN, has joined the Strategic Radiology national coalition of independent radiology practices. With the addition of the 26-physician practice, Strategic Radiology establishes a presence in the state of Minnesota.

“We are proud to welcome Minneapolis Radiology Associates to the Strategic Radiology coalition,” said Arl Van Moore, Jr., MD, FACR, CEO and chair, Strategic Radiology. “Minneapolis Radiology Associates is an excellent practice that shares our core values and commitment to excellence and also broadens our geographic diversity.”

Minneapolis Radiology Associates provides subspecialized imaging services to six hospitals, four regional health systems, and multiple outpatient imaging and intervention sites in the region. They also own a management services organization that provides billing management, IT consulting, and other administrative services. The practice is active in medical research and education through its non-profit Minneapolis Radiology and Vascular Research Foundation, a 501c(3) with a medical education and research mission.

“We recently concluded decisively that we are not interested in a private equity/venture capital relationship,” said Troy Roovers, CEO, Minneapolis Radiology Associates. “We look forward to collaborating with our new Strategic Radiology colleagues and enjoying membership benefits, such as access to quality benchmarking opportunities as well as in-house, subspecialty after-hours support.”

About Strategic Radiology

Strategic Radiology is a coalition of 22 private radiology practices, representing more than 1,000 radiologists. The coalition’s goal is to achieve higher quality patient care and more cost-efficient delivery of medical imaging through an integrated approach of shared data and best practices, interchanging clinical expertise, and consolidating certain practice expenses.
